

October Oratory

Lots and lots of talking in October, we have been working with the children on the new curriculum rationale for Falla Hill – we have been listening to their thoughts on the curriculum (some of their ideas are extremely aspirational but could be adapted for the budget we have). The staff have also offered their opinion and at some point in the new year we will have a draft for parents.

P7 showed exemplary behaviour and fantastic engagement in yesterday's food and farming workshops at Trinlaymire. So much so that three separate adults commented on this as the day progressed. Well done P7!

This week P1 have been working on recognising two digit numbers and their letters & sounds. P5/4 have been learning about and writing about the Titanic, P2 have been using rekenreks to work out number bonds to 20 and working on their reading comprehension. P6 have been using padlets to explain their understanding of the book they are reading and P7 have learnt a lot about farming and how food makes it to our table! Another busy week at Falla Hill.

- There will be Poppies available to children next week (w/b 28th) for a donation. We will send out a reminder when they arrive.
- No Football Club on Wednesday 30th October.
- As we are coming into winter if anyone needs support with winter clothing, coats, boots etc please do let us know as we have referrals for support we can make.
- P6 & P7 Advent dates have been changed – hopefully this gives everyone enough notice, we have put a 3rd Nativity performance in which has led to the changes and allows us to keep the adverts consistent in the afternoon. There will be a flyer detailing the P1 – P3 Christmas shows soon.

Nursery

'We have been hearing all about the children's holiday and the exciting things they done with their special people. As we continue our 'Bridges' topic, the children listened to the story 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff' discussing how bridges come in all different sizes shapes. The children demonstrated good listening skills as they listened to the story and shared their likes and dislikes'.

Falla

Falla has been in P3 this week, he has been learning about The Romans, working on his number, writing and doing PE. He has had a brilliant week.

Next week he is off to P6 whose attendance went up by almost 13%.
