

Falla Hill

Our P7 leaders had a Leadership session via Teams with Mr Mark Warburton currently 'President of Soccer' with Sporting Jacksonville in the USA and a former football manager in Scotland and England. He took them through leadership and they asked questions about what qualities a leader should have (and they asked one or two questions about football).

Thank you to Steven Sharp from Fauldhouse Utd Development Trust for providing our pupil leaders with this session,

Around school P3 and P2 have been writing lots of sentences about their learning, P5/4 have undertaken some fantastic work on graphs – they were explaining the layout to me yesterday. P1 have been working on their sounds and numbers. I read some excellent writing from the P6 class. P4 have been working on spatial awareness in Mathematics and P7 have been writing information reports.

Reading is a crucial life skill, not just the ability to decode and read the words in the text but being able to understand and comprehend what is written. We know that modern family life is busy and children have numerous competing opportunities after school but we would encourage as much reading as possible.

Nursery

'This week in nursery the children have been enjoying learning about all the different types of transport around us. We have discussed how we travel to nursery and how to keep safe while out and about in the community. During skill sessions the children have taken part in activities to increase confidence as they identify their own toothbrush symbol as part of their learning of oral health.'
